THE BEAN EATERS ARE HERE.

Manager Selee and His Men Came in This Morning.

GETTING DOWN TO WORK EARLY.

Some of the Games That will be Played Here and Elsewhere—The Man who Lost Himself.

Boston baked beans and arnica were very much in demand today at the Benbow and the McAdoo. Manager Selee of the Boston base ball team and sixteen of his champion ball tossers came in this morning on the vestibule.

Mr. T. H. Murnane, correspondent of the Boston Globe, and Mr. J. C. Morse, correspondent of the Boston Herald, accompanied the team to keep their papers supplied with the doings of the champions. Mr. Morse carried a kodak with him to the grounds this morning and "snapped" each player for his paper. Some of the player's poses were very fetching.

As a whole the men appear to be in very good condition and these warm days and hard practice will soon get them into championship shape. A number of the players are "colts" and this year will be their first as major league players.

The following men have so far reported for spring practice: Yeager, Bemis, and Bramfield, catchers; Klobedanz, Sullivan, Willis, Hickman, Mills, and Pittinger, pitchers; Lowe, who came in Sunday from Charlotte, 2nd base; Collins, 3rd base; Long, short stop; Duffy, left field; Stahl, right field; Keinster, extra infield player; Stivetts, who was one of Boston's best pitchers for several yeare, will be general utility player this year and will play 1st base, until Tenny comes. Yeager will play center field until Hamilton comes. Five of the players have not come yet—Nichols, Lewis, Tenny, Hamilton, and Bergen. Nichols is expected at any moment while Hamilton and Tenny are not looked for until the latter part of the week. Bergen was lost while on the way down; he may turn up at any time. Lewis will not join the team until after it returns north as he is now working for an A. M. degree at William's college.

Manager Selee had his men out twice today, and will continue giving them daily practice until April 1st, when they leave for New York, where they open the season on the 15th. They will gradually work their way north, playing local teams along the route.

The schedule of games to be played here is not complete. On next Thursday afternoon the Bostons will play the Augusta, Ga., league team. On Monday the team leaves for Charlotte, where they play the Richmond league team. They will return and entertain the Richmond's here Tuesday. Ladies will be admitted free. The general admission will be 25 cents.

Mr. Selee has several dates open and would be glad to get a game with Oak Ridge or some other local team.

The Bostons tried to get a game with the University but had no date open that suited the U. N. C. players.

Mr. Selee will go to Durham and endeavor to arrange a game with Trinity College for next week, and may also try to secure a game with Wake Forest.

JUST FROM THE "RIDGE."

Dedication of the Monument at Guilford Battle Ground.

Correspondence Telegram.

Oak Ridge, March 21.—Walker & Co's new store, near the campus, is about ready for occupancy, and these gentlemen intend placing their stock the coming week. The firm is a hustling one and in addition to their new enterprise, already conduct a popular mercantile business here. They own the recently equipped roller mills, just outside of the corporate limits.

April 23d has been designated for the dedication of the monument to be erected at the Guilford Battle Ground by the literary societies of Oak Ridge Institute to "Light Horse" Harry Lee's Bugler, who fell at a point near here. The student body will spend the day at the Battle Ground, and neighboring schools will be invited to participate in the exercises. A fitting program will be arranged.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N.C., March 21, '98.

Every seat available in the auditorium and Sunday-school room of the Methodist church was occupied last night at the closing session of the Christian Endeavor convention.

The delegates will all probably leave for their homes to-day.

Dr. Clark leaves with the Charlotte delegation to-day and will speak to Endeavorers of that city this evening.

Very few changes were made in the officers for the coming year:

Rev. A. D. Thaler, of Winston, is re-elected president.

Mrs. M. H. Hendricks, of Salem, the former secretary and treasurer is now vice-president and editor of the North State Endeavorer. Miss Ruth Worth, of Guilford College, is secretary and treasurer.

North Carolina will no doubt send the largest delegation of Christian Endeavorers to the International convention this year that she has ever sent to one of these gatherings. This convention will be held in Nashville, Tenn., July 5-11.

Invitations were extended to the convention from both Salisbury and Washington for the session of next year. The former place was chosen.

The leading and most helpful features of the convention were the early morning prayer-meetings and Dr. Clark's sermon, addresses and kind words of counsel and encouragement.

W. L. Stamey, an up-to-date all round printer, late of the High Point Enterprise, has accepted a position with the Greensboro Evening Telegram.

W. J. Hancock, of the Asheboro Provision Co., returned home to-day.

Messrs. Pickens and Walser, of Lexington, attended the convention yesterday.

Miss Fleta Brown and her brother, of Kernersville, were visitors to the city yesterday.

Messrs. Ed. and W. P. Ragan, of Greensboro, were in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Dr. J. O. Walker, of Randleman, is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Scroggs.

Miss Pearl Moffie, of Lexington, who has been in attendance at the C. E. Convention, returned home last night.

Mrs. W. G. Fortune, who at one time was a very popular resident of High Point, but now of Asheville, is visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Scroggs.

Charley Craven and Thos. Cridlebaugh went out last Saturday about six miles of High Point to the woods to cut some wood. While cutting a large tree it fell on Mr. Craven's side, and before he could get out of the way a limb hit him on the head, breaking his neck. Death was instantaneous. He was thirty years old and leaves a wife and three children.

H. C. Bowman has accepted a position as bookkeeper for the High Point Furniture Company.

High Point is to have another machine shop. The building will be erected where the High Point Table factory was burned. Mr. John Marsh will have charge of the business.

Bitten By Mad Dog.

A Wilkesboro special to the Charlotte Observer of this morning says:

The theme of conversation in our hamlet was diverted from war topics to a mad dog scare today. A colored boy about 14 years old was bitten by a dog supposed to have dydrophobia. The dog must have sprung at him as he was bitten on the lower lid of the right eye. He was put under Dr. W. A. Ingram for treatment.

It seems that the dog has been mad several days, and has bitten several other dogs which have been confined. A posse of negroes succeeded in killing the animal.

Swearing as a Fashion.

A staid and respectable New England paper wishes to know if swearing is going out of fashion, or the reverse. The editor of this paper declares that, so far as he can find out, the habit of swearing is altogether too prevalent among the young men of New England towns. He says the youth of the period do not seem to be able to say three consecutive sentences with adjurations of an unpleasant nature, so that their conversation is exceedingly annoying to people who happen to be in their vicinity on the street or elsewhere. And he wants to know if this thing is to be allowed to continue.—Washington Times.

COL. MOWBRY'S ADDRESS.

He Pays a Glowing Tribute to Miss Frances Willard.

SOMETHING OF HER LIFE WORK.

Other Prominent Speakers Speak After Colonel Mowbry—92nd Anniversary of Neal Dow.

The W. C. T. U. held memorial services yesterday in the First Presbyterian church in honor of Miss F. E. Willard. It was the 92d anniversary of the birth of Gen. Neal Dow, the great apostle of prohibition, and very fitting, indeed, was it that on such an occasion last tender tribute should be paid to his gentle associate and coworker. Rev. Dr. L. W. Crawford presided over the meeting and introduced Col. J. E. Mowbray, who delivered a beautiful address, speaking of the social, purity personal and womanly side of Miss Willard's character. He sketched briefly causes and conditions which influenced her to abandon the position of college president and take up temperance reform work. In the dark days of '72, '73 and '74, when the northern part, at least of the United States, seemed almost overwhelmed and crushed by the traffic in the drink demon; when social vice ran rampant through every stratum of society, she became alarmed for the safety of the Republic. She went out upon the heights and shading her eyes saw the lowering clouds that threatened destruction; saw the devastation and despair wrought in the homes of the poor, and determined to strike a blow for "God, home and native land." She bent her ear to catch the rumblings of the ages of the past that she might learn from them the story of the undoings of peoples, and the fall of dynasties and of empires. She learned that the soldiers of Hannibal, so long as they battled with the avalanches and glaciers of the snow-clad Alps, were invincible and scornfully repelled the onslaughts of the Roman legions, but when they had crossed the icy barrier and had slept beneath the soft blue skies of Capua, they were weakened and effeminated by Roman debauchery, and become an easy prey. So fearing such influence which seemed about to overwhelm her own country, she started a campaign of sobriety and purity, actuated by an enduring love for mankind and zeal for the Master's cause. The work broadening and deepening extended beyond the seas, until the slogan, "for God and home and native land," no longer sufficed, and it become "for God and home and every land." Miss Williard knew no north, no east, no south, no west, no ease, no rest, but, athwart the sky like a flaming meteor, she went.

At the close of Col. Mowbray's address appropriate remarks were made by Prof. P. P. Claxton, Dr. Egbert Smith and Dr. J. H. Weaver. Miss Alta Cozart, of G. F. College, very beautifully read a poem written for the occasion by, Mrs. Hundley, of this city. The services were terminated by the singing of Miss Willard's favorite hymn—"Blessed Be the Tie That Binds."

The Killing of P. M. Baker.

Columbia, S. C., March 19—After five weeks of consideration the coroner's jury at Lake City today found that Postmaster Baker and child came to their deaths by gunshot wounds in the hands of persons unknown to the jury.

The reward of $1,500 for each conviction, offered by the government, is said to be the largest of the kind on record, and as the state also offered $500 it is probable that detectives are holding their evidence until the coroner's jury had disposed of the case.

Federal Prisoners.

Officers J. W. Wilson, W. C. Painter and Billy Woolrough were at Clegg's Saturday night, on their way from Lynchburg, Va., to Raleigh, with seven United States prisoners, sent up for counterfeiting ten dollar gold pieces.

The prisoners were Frank Sarver, Wm. Brown, Eugene Mills, Turner Carson, Isom Miles, Tom Smith and J. O. King, and the terms of imprisonment range from one to four years.

It is said they made and passed about $800 before the officers got on to where so much gold was coming from.

To-day at noon officers passed through with six more prisoners from Knoxville, Tenn.

We could not learn for what or for how long these last were sent over.

None of them looked to be under 35 years of age and were as jolly as if going to a picnic.

Flower Thieves.

There has been some complaint lately of flower thieves in South Greensboro. Some people have had nearly all their lilacs stolen in a single night. This is very annoying to those who have tried to beautify their premises and we hear that one man perched himself in a tree last night and prepared to protect his flowers with a gun.

Mind boys or you may have the unpleasant experience of facing a six-shooter, while on someone else's premises after dark.

WILL MAKE CONCESSIONS.

Anything to Secure Speedy Conclusion of a Fair Reciprocity.

London, March 20—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says:

"Senor Polo Bernabe, the Spanish minister at Washington, has been authorized to make all the concessions possible in order to obtain the speedy conclusion of a fair reciprocity. By a mere expressed desire, this will also include the Philippines. Both the Cuban and Spanish cabinets are anxious to expedite the negotiations to the utmost.

"Senor Polo Bernabe wires that he has found the American state department favorably disposed on this point, but that more reserve than ever is shown on the international question pending the settlement of the Maine affair."

REPORT GOES UP TONIGHT?

There is Great Suspense in Official Circles.

THE SUNDAY CABINET MEETING

The Texas and Massachusetts Sailed for Hampton Roads—Wall Street Tries to Buy the Report.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 21—This may be the last day of anxious waiting for the fateful report of the court of inquiry upon the cause of the Maine disaster.

The anxiety has been great for weeks, and today the suspense is intense. There is every reason to believe, however, that before the meeting of the cabinet tomorrow morning the report will be in the hands of Secretary Long, who will take it to the president immediately. It is believed the president will transmit it to congress, with his message.

The cabinet held a Sunday conference, which was devoted to a discussion of the purchase of more warships.

SHIPS SAIL.

Key West, March 21—Battlships Texas and Massachusetts sailed for Hampton Roads today. The Indiana is expected to join the fleet today.

It is reported that $1000 has been offered by an agent of Wall street for the Maine report. One man offered $25,000 for a forecast of the verdict.

MISS DORA JONES

Will Lecture on New Congressional Library This Week.

Miss Dora Jones, who was formally connected with the G. F. College for a number of years, is to be in town Wednesday or Thursday night and will give her illustrated lecture on the new Congressional Library.

Miss Jones is well known all through the State as a very talented woman and her friends and acquaintances here will be glad to see and hear her on this interesting subject.

She has been a resident of Washington for some years and has spent much time and effort in the preparation of this lecture. It is both pleasing and instructive.

The various city schools, as well as our citizens generally, will doubtless give her a good audience.

Cordial Endorsement.

"His Excellency assisted by the company presents to the great jury of public opinion is a remarkably strong one and well deserves the verdict of the cordial endorsement which it receives nightly. The play is an admirable study of every day life. Notwithstanding the gravity of the theme it is not lacking in the element of comedy, and its moral tone is excellent. It is one of the few comedy dramas that leave a good taste in the mouth. To Edwin A. Davis, whose tact in the art of selecting competent material, is demonstrated by this association of capable performers, is due as much praise for his discriminating enterprise as for his admirable impersonation of the title role. The whole company is a gratifying vindication of his judgment and its reception, wherever they have appeared, attest to this fact. His individual work merits the highest commendation."

Needed Street Improvement.

The Telegram would call the attention of the street department to the condition of North Green street. This is a much traveled street and as the open weather comes on it will be used by people going to and from the cemetery. It certainly needs looking after. We know the street department is doing good work for the town and has its hands full, but we trust that in due time this street will be improved.

SHRUBBERY FOR THE MANSION.

Work Being Done on the Grounds at Governor's Residence.

Mr. Robert Bottomly, the landscape gardener at Mr. George Vanderbilt's Biltmore estate, is at work on the grounds at the Executive Mansion arranging the plot plans which he drew some time ago, for transplanting the shrubbery which Mr. Vanderbilt recently presented to Governor Russell.

Mr. Bottomly will arrange the walks and beds before transplanting the shrubbery, of which there are 5,000 specimens. The shrubbery consists of 2,000 different varieties and could, with difficulty, be duplicated. The specimens are rare and costly.

The appearance of the Mansion grounds will be completely transformed when Mr. Bottomly completes the task of setting out the shrubbery. The work is done at the expense of Mr. Vanderbilt.—Post.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the occulist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following;

TWO HORNS ONLY.

Pittsburg, Mar. 19.—Secretary Gage, who spoke to-night at the dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, said in an interview: "If the Board's report shows that the "Maine" was blown up at the instigation of the Spanish government, war will follow in fifteen minutes.

"The report will arrive early next week. I believe that a majority of the American people are now convinced that the authorities in Havana had no hand in the loss of the "Maine.'

"Unless the report should prove to the contrary, it is not likely that war will result from that cause."

The above sounds somewhat like the product of saffron genius. However Secretary Gage is quite capable of saying some exceedingly yellow things.

It did not equip the secretary with the earmarks of a statesman to say that war would follow in fifteen minutes if it was shown that the Maine was blown up at the instigation of the Spanish government.

Secretary Gage is not supposed to carry in his head all of the intentions, military or otherwise, of the administration.

The chunks of financial wisdom with which the secretary's cranium is cumbered leaves no room for such. But that is not all. The secretary declares it as his opinion that the majority of the American people are now convinced that the authorities in Havana had no hand in the loss of the Maine. When did the honorable secretary poll the majority of the American people as to their opinion in this matter? Since when did the majority of the American people become so convinced? The secretary had best stick to his silly twaddle about finance. The "majority of the American people are now convinced," nay have been for sometime convinced, that the secretary knows nothing about that topic. Therefore in sticking to it he runs no danger of spreading the popular understanding of his ignorance.

A great many people at first believed that the catastrophe was the result of internal accident. The course of events has steadily decreased that number until to-day it has very few adherents. But if any have been so insane as to believe that the ship could have been destroyed without the knowledge and connivance of the Spanish authorities they have kept it to themselves. The destruction was too complete. It was not the bungling work of fantics. The havoc wrought was too great, even for a torpedo. How could it have been wrought except by a plan deliberately layed and carefully executed in a way that must inevitably have attracted the attention of the Spanish authorities? The fanatic theory will not do. Either the Maine was blown up by its own ammunition or it was blown up with the knowledge and consent of the Spanish authorities in Havana.

Mrs. Frances Hogson Burnett, the novelist, wants a divorce from her husband. It appears that the divorce court is to have another ante room beside that of the stage and the prize ring. As Mr. Burnett will not contest the case, it is probable that he may have been compelled to listen while his wife read the productions of her genius from manuscript.

Congressman Bailey's ambition to succeed Speaker Reed has not yet smitten his Czarship with chronic insomnia.

Southern towns are fortunate in the passage of the special appropriation to secure a fast mail service. Such service greatly facilitates business and its loss would have been sorely felt by those towns now having it.

The new torpedo boat that with the meagre encouragement of a wire tied to its tail will swim 35 miles out in the ocean seeking what it may blow up and come back again if finds nothing, is an indication that Yankee genius is not wholly valueless, even for purposes of war.

On Saturday the dome of the national capitol cracked. Through the horrid rent, blue lightning, interlocked with intermittent flashes of purple oratory, licked and hissed. The Honorable Richmond Pearson and the Hon. Harry Skinner locked horns on the floor of the house. That accounted for the lightning and things.

In his call for a state convention to be held in Raleigh on May 26th, Chairman Manly says:

Of the affairs in our beloved state no words should be needed to awaken the patriotism of her sons. A political campaign is just ahead of us in which the wager of the contest is the good name and prosperity of North Carolina. We should begin work at once; prescribing no test oath to our fellow citizens, but extending a warm welcome and full fellowship to all who want to join us in securing just laws and good government. An early convention is fixed, where differences, if any exist, will be adjusted, the plan of fight mapped out and then a united democracy will triumph.

This does away with all necessity for fusion. Those who really wish to improve the management of state affairs are invited to join in the democratic primaries where they will have an equal voice with others in determining how and by whom such improvement shall be secured. Those who refuse to do this would be more dangerous as allies than as enemies, let the arrangement be fusion or what it may.

A NEW COMET DISCOVERED.

Dr. Perrine, at Lick Observatory Reports a Bright One.

Cambridge, Mass., March 20—A telegram has been received at the Harvard College Observatory from Prof. Schaeberle, at Lick Observatory, stating that Dr. Perrine had just discovered a bright comet. Its position March 20 (o h. 53 m., 52 s.) Greenwich mean time, was as follows: Right ascension 21 h., 18 m., 36.6 s.; declination north 16 degrees, 43 m., 23 s.; daily motion in right ascension 3 m., 44 s., daily motion in declination 1 degree, 1 m. The comet is 2 m. in diameter, of the seventh magnitude, has strong central coudensation and a tail one degree long.

SENT 1572 MILES WITH PANTS.

They Were Polo Trousers Inadvertently Left in a Club House.

New York, March 19—The remarkable secret is out, and it transpires that David Sacks, the American district telegraph messenger, was recently sent from this city to Aiken, S. C., simply to carry a pair of polo breeches to their owner. It was a round trip of 1572 miles, and the messenger's fee, at 30 cents an hour, was about $70.

It so happened that George P. Eustis discovered the baggy polo breeches in question at the Knickerbocker Club, and, knowing they belonged to Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., of Aiken, S. C., he rang up a messenger and said: "Here, take this package to that address."

The messenger took the bundle carelessly, expecting a city trip, and was told to his surprise, that it was to be delivered in Aiken, S. C. He didn't know what was in it; he didn't care, and he went on the remarkable errand promptly and delivered the polo trousers on time."

Accepts Prince George.

Constantinople, March 19—In consequence of the sultan's direct appeal the czar consented to withdraw his demand for the $3,750,000 arrears of the Russo-Turkish war indemnity, which his majesty at first insisted should be paid from the Graeco-Turkish war indemnity.

This fact, it is alleged, foreshadows Turkey's acceptance of Prince George of Greece, the candidate of the czar, as governor of the island of Crete.

TWO BODIES FOUND.

Neither Could Be Identified—Divers at Work.

Havana, Mar. 18—One Spanish and four American divers have been working on the wreck today. This afternoon two bodies were recovered, but neither has been identified as yet. One is the body of a man apparently about 40, of medium height, with his right fore arm tattooed in a design of two hearts overlapping and pierced by two daggers, with a red tinged clover leaf above the hearts. The divers have recovered the ship's service plate and a six pounder.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug rtore.

is a bottle of the greatest of all blood purifiers—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

This great blood purifier and nerve tonic, cures diseases by removing from the system, the conditions which produce them. It expels all poison and impurity from the blood. It acts upon the nerves as a stimulant, particularly upon those nerves belonging to the great organs of the body; therefore, it causes the heart to beat with greater force, the lungs to take in more oxygen and to expel more carbonic acid; it induces the kidneys to send off more of the poisonous excretions from the blood; the bowels to have more regularity and healthfulness in their action; the sweat glands to throw out more impurities.

Our illustrated book of 36 pages will tell you what is the matter and what to do. Its free for the asking. Quart bottle, $1.00.

WANT TO REPEL IT.

The Spanish Ambassador at Vienna's Fool Remark up in Congress.

Washington, March 19—When the house opened Mr. Henry, of Mississippi, rising to a question of privilege, sent to the clerk's desk a dispatch in which the Spanish Ambassador at Vienna is reported to have said that "If during a war the United States should incite the Phillipines to revolt against Spain, the latter could revenge herself by 'raising revolts' in the American southern states," which the clerk began to read.

Mr. Dingley raised the point that that presented no question of privilege, and was sustained by the speaker.

Mr. Henry said the despatch contained a reflection against the people of his section, and that he wanted to repel it. It was not read, however, and the routine of the house was continued.

THE EMPEROR WORSTED.

A Plucky Little Hungarian Girl Got Revenge For Sadowa.

The present kaiser would probably not admit that he had often been thwarted in any of his plans, but an anecdote has recently become known which shows that he at least once "got the worst of it," and it is all the more piquant from the fact that he was defeated by a girl.

When the kaiser, who was then Prince Wilhelm, was about 10 years old, he and Prince Heinrich spent some time at Cassel with their tutors, who sometimes allowed the little princes to play with other children. One day when several of them were gathered together it chanced that a little French girl was among the number, and the young Germans conceived the brilliant idea of making her a representative of the country they all so cordially hated. The delightful plan was immediately put into execution, and the poor child was tied to a tree. Then began a fusillade of pine cones, sticks, etc., and whenever anything struck her there was a cry of "Here's for Sedan!" This went on for a few minutes, when a little Hungarian girl, Helena von D——, who was watching, could bear the injustice no longer, and, singling out Prince Wilhelm as chief offender, she threw herself on him. The attack being unexpected, he was completely taken by surprise and fell down, whereupon she began to pound him, crying out at each blow, "Here's for Sadowa!"

The prince was fast getting the worst of it, for his little adversary was thoroughly in earnest, when the imperial tutors, hearing the noise, rushed up and separated the combatants. After that the princes were more carefully watched, and Wilhelm had no opportunity to "get even" with the little champion of justice. Some days afterward, hearing that the princes were leaving, Helena went down to the gate to see them go by. As they passed Wilhelm spied his foe, and leaning out behind his tutor he stuck out his tongue.

Helena was the daughter of titled parents, and later she was married to an Englishman. When the kaiser was in London, she told this story to one of his gentlemen in waiting, who in turn repeated it to his majesty. The latter exclaimed: "Is that devil of a girl here now? I would like to see her." A meeting was arranged, but Helena became ill, and so they never met after that one encounter to make friends or renew hostilities.—New York Tribune.

A SAVAGE CRITICISM.

The Teacher's Artistic Cleverness Received a Hard and Cruel Blow.

In one of the Cleveland public schoolrooms of the primary grade the teacher has been reading Longfellow's "Hiawatha" to her pupils. Of course this is a rather ambitious work for the little ones, says The Plain Dealer, but they enjoy it, and the rhythm seems particularly pleasing to them. When they come to a hard word, the teacher goes to the blackboard and draws a picture to illustrate its meaning. This the pupils find highly entertaining, and it helps in quite a remarkable way to fix the text in their minds.

A few days ago they came to this line in the early part of the poem:

At the door on summer evenings sat the little Hiawatha.

"At—th' door on sum-mer eve-nings sat th' lit-tle''—read the children.

"Go on," said the teacher.

But they couldn't go on. The name of Hiawatha was too much for them. They knew who Hiawatha was, but they didn't recognize his name. So the teacher went to the board and took considerable pains in drawing:

First.—A wigwam with poles sticking up above it, and a rude aboriginal drawing above it, and a rude aboriginal painting on the side.

Second.—Little Hiawatha, with feathers in his hair, squatted at the wigwam door.

Third.—A fine harvest moon.

Then she pointed at Hiawatha and asked what it was.

There was a general craning of necks and shaking of heads.

"Come, come," said the teacher, "you know what that is."

Then one little girl spoke up:

"I guess it's a mud turtle."

And instantly, with one accord, the class glibly repeated:

"At th' door on sum-mer eve-nings sat th' lit-tle mud-dy tur tle."

And the teacher feels that her artistic cleverness received a hard and cruel blow.

Stylish Evening Bodice.

The simplest and perhaps the most fashionable bodice for evening wear, says a New York fashion authority, is the full blouse shape of chiffon, drooping over a fitted silk lining, the top cut out in square or rounding fashion, with a full tulle ruche, a narrow band of fur, a fall of lace or beaded revers to finish the edge. The sleeves consist of short, full puffs similarly trimmed. This is a basis for any kind of flower trimming that taste suggests. Rows of shaded pink roses devoid of foliage are in great use on evening gowns this winter, as are maidenhair fern and lilac sprays, laid upon strands of pink or orange satin ribbon not more than an inch and a half wide.

In a Chicago Art Gallery.

"It seems to me the perspective in this picture is faulty."

"The—er—what?"

"The perspective."

"Oh, yes, that part of it is very ugly. It's laid on too thick, and you can buy better frames than that one for $6 a dozen."—Chicago Tribune.

A Bad Bargain.

"Jane, did you break the china plate?"

"Yes'm. You got fooled on that plate, mum. It's a weak un. It broke the fourth time I dropped it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GREENSBORO PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Plan of Organization and Subscribers Thus Far.

A meeting of many of those interested in the establishment of a library in Greensboro was recently held for the purpose of devising ways and means of doing so.

The undersigned committee appointed at that meeting recommend the following:

GENERAL PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

1. It shall be a corporation with a capital stock of $5,000 divided into one hundred shares of $50 each.

2. Each share shall carry with it a perpetual membership, with all privileges of the library, to the holder and his immediate family.

b. This stock shall be non-assessable and transferable.

c. This stock shall be payable as follows; Twenty per cent. on call and remainder in four equal installments of twenty per cent. each, at intervals of six months. Notes without interest to be given for deferred payments.

3. As soon hereafter as possible the subscribers for stock shall meet and organize.

It is the purpose of the members of this committee to wait upon the citizens in person and solicit subscriptions.

It should be understood that this committee has no cut and dried or prearranged plans with reference to the library. No location has been selected and no steps taken in that direction. Having earnestly at heart the welfare of Greensboro, believing that no one thing can go farther to secure it, the committe has undertaken to carry this matter to a successful issue out of public spirit only.

Be it understood that these subscriptions are in no sense in the nature of gifts or charities. It will be a strictly legal corporation, its funds will be invested under the direction of subscribers themselves and in property where the certificates of stock will be worth their face value.

It is proposed to secure for the library a permanent home; to make it a fixture. All that is asked is the co-operation of those citizens without whose co-operation no good work can go forward, and who, by virtue of their position in the community, owe it thus much.

P. P. Claxton, G. A. Grimsley, C. P. Sapp, Dr. W. J. Richardson, E. W. Smith, W. P. Beall, M. P. Troy, A. M. Scales, R. D. Douglas, Mrs. Mamie Crawford, Miss Mary Petty, Mrs. G. W. Whitsett, Committee.

We, the undersigned, each agree to subscribe for one share of stock of the value of $50 as above:

Neil Ellington, Tyre Glenn, R. W. Murray, J. Y. Joyner, Dr. J. T. J. Battle, Miss Mary Petty, Dr. W. J. Richardson, Col. J. T. Morehead, Wm. T. Sergeant, R. F. Dalton, Mrs. R. H. Crawford, E. P. —o—

Every one looks anxiously for the war news. Will there be war or will there not be, and if there should be, will goods "go up" to "war prices?" We don't know but we have a large stock of everything the housekeeper, farmer and merchant need, so we, as well as Uncle Sam, are prepared for war.

—o—

"What's all that racket going on over there?" asked the new arrival in Oklahoma.

"Hangin' a man for stealin' a wheel" replied the old resident.

"Isn't that a pretty severe punishment for a slight offense?",

"Slight? Why, stranger, it was a '98 model."

(Must have been a Crawford.)

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Third Year of The Crawford

in Greensboro is upon us. Investigate its record. Ask the riders, more numerous than those of any other wheel of its grade.

Have You Seen The Tribune?

It is not a new wheel, but this is the first season it has been in our stock. You just ought to see the wheel spin around.

Cheap Enough: The Crawford at $50.

But we have Crawfords even cheaper, of the highest grade, though not quite up to the '98 model in beauty of design.
